Katie Cashman is an Education Program Coordinator at Zoo New England. She has been with ZNE for four years, first as an intern at Franklin Park Zoo before starting her career at Stone Zoo. She studied Wildlife and Conservation Biology at the University of New Hampshire, which fostered her desire to work with animals and to teach others about the conservation of endangered species. Katie’s favorite animal to work with is Owlfredo the Eastern screech owl.