

Start at the Serengeti Crossing:

What African animals have stripes that help them blend in with each other in a herd?

Answer: _____

How many bones are in a giraffe's neck?
(Hint: Humans have the same number.)

Answer: _____

What animals are camouflaged to sit on their nest at different times of the day, the male at night and the female during the day?

Answer: _____

Then, prowl up to Big Cats:

What are two genetic problems that can happen when someone breeds white tigers?

1. _____
2. _____

On one of the lion signs, there is a thermometer that is labeled with the different population levels of animals in the wild. What are they and which one describes the lion?

Answer: _____

Next, step into the Tropical Forest:

What South American herbivores look like anteaters, but actually related to horses and rhinos?

Answer: _____

What spotted predator of the South American rainforest likes to feast on small reptiles, mammals, birds, insects, and even fish?

Answer: _____

Name the small monkey who is not having a "bad hair day" but is in fact named for its funky hair.

Answer: _____

This nocturnal primate spends most of its day curled up napping. It has large, round eyes for hunting in the dark and a very slow metabolism which allows it to eat insects that are poisonous to other animals. Name it!

Answer: _____

Name the animal that has claws up to 3–4 inches long and a long sticky tongue it can use to collect 1,000 insects in a few minutes.

Answer: _____

Which African bird averages 6 feet in height and uses its long legs to wade through shallow water where it captures fish?

Answer: _____

Name this little animal who is actually a meat-eater and one of the smallest birds of prey.

Answer: _____

What often misunderstood animals are actually fruit-eaters and can avoid hitting things in the dark through the use of echolocation?

Answer: _____

This animal is about 10 feet long right now, but he can get even bigger—up to 30 feet! Who is he?

Answer: _____

Find these free-flying birds, check the box when you find them:

Use the identification key across from the Tamarin exhibit and signs near the Saddle-billed Storks to help you.

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Golden-Breasted Starling | <input type="checkbox"/> Cacique |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Yellow-billed Stork | <input type="checkbox"/> Scarlet Ibis |

Look for a Pagoda-shaped building and go into Bird's World!

Visit each of the four exhibits in Birds' World to find the answers!

Birds' World Swamp:

Spot the 4 different bird species living in this exhibit, check the box when you find them:

- Hadada Ibis Boat-billed Heron
 Sunbittern Ringed Teal

Which bird in the swamp has a long tail to help it navigate through the trees as it flies?

Answer: _____

Birds' World Rainforest:

As you stand in the middle of the rainforest layers, count how many birds are on the forest floor, in the middle layer, and in the canopy.

Floor: Middle: Canopy:

Birds' World Scrubland:

What's the name of the lizard that uses its brightly colored tongue to scare away predators?

Answer: _____

Birds' World mountainside/Jungle River:

Why do you think this tawny bird got a name like "frogmouth"?

Answer: _____

Name the mostly white bird who is very endangered due to habitat loss and the illegal pet trade. There are only about 30 of them left in the wild!

Answer: _____

Step outside the Birds' World building and look for:

These parrot-like birds are quite intelligent and are well known for being destructive toward cars and other objects in their native New Zealand. What are they called? Answer: _____

Start at the Serengeti Crossing:

What African animals have stripes that help them blend in with each other in a herd?

Answer: ZEBRA

How many bones are in a giraffe's neck?
(Hint: Humans have the same number.)

Answer: SEVEN

What animals are camouflaged to sit on their nest at different times of the day, the male at night and the female during the day?

Answer: OSTRICH

Next, step into the Tropical Forest:

What South American herbivores look like anteaters, but actually related to horses and rhinos?

Answer: BAIRD'S TAPIR

What spotted predator of the South American rainforest likes to feast on small reptiles, mammals, birds, insects, and even fish?

Answer: OCELOT

Name the small monkey who is not having a "bad hair day" but is in fact named for its funky hair.

Answer: COTTON-TOP TAMARIN

This nocturnal primate spends most of its day curled up napping. It has large, round eyes for hunting in the dark and a very slow metabolism which allows it to eat insects that are poisonous to other animals. Name it!

Answer: POTTO

Name the animal that has claws up to 3–4 inches long and a long sticky tongue it can use to collect 1,000 insects in a few minutes.

Answer: ANTEATER

Then, prowl up to Big Cats:

What are two genetic problems that can happen when someone breeds white tigers?

1. Cleft palate; cognitive delays; hip
2. dysplasia; immune deficiency;
scoliosis

On one of the lion signs, there is a thermometer that is labeled with the different population levels of animals in the wild. What are they and which one describes the lion?

Answer:

Extinct in the wild; Critically Endangered;
Endangered; Vulnerable; Near Threatened;
Common. LIONS ARE CONSIDERED VULNERABLE

Which African bird averages 6 feet in height and uses its long legs to wade through shallow water where it captures fish?

Answer: SADDLE-BILLED STORK

Name this little animal who is actually a meat-eater and one of the smallest birds of prey.

Answer: PYGMY FALCON

What often misunderstood animals are actually fruit-eaters and can avoid hitting things in the dark through the use of echolocation?

Answer: FRUIT BATS

This animal is about 10 feet long right now, but he can get even bigger—up to 30 feet! Who is he?

Answer: ANACONDA

Find these free-flying birds, check the box when you find them:

Use the identification key across from the Tamarin exhibit and signs near the Saddle-billed Storks to help you.

- Golden-Breasted Starling Cacique
 Yellow-billed Stork Scarlet Ibis

Look for a Pagoda-shaped building and go into Bird's World!

Visit each of the four exhibits in Birds' World to find the answers!

Birds' World Swamp:

Spot the 4 different bird species living in this exhibit, check the box when you find them:

- Hadada Ibis Boat-billed Heron
 Sunbittern Ringed Teal

Which bird in the swamp has a long tail to help it navigate through the trees as it flies?

Answer: GOLDEN BREASTED STARLING

Birds' World Rainforest:

As you stand in the middle of the rainforest layers, count how many birds are on the forest floor, in the middle layer, and in the canopy.

Floor: Middle: Canopy:

Birds' World Scrubland:

What's the name of the lizard that uses its brightly colored tongue to scare away predators?

Answer: ZEBRA

Birds' World mountainside/Jungle River:

Why do you think this tawny bird got a name like "frogmouth"?

Answer:

Name the mostly white bird who is very endangered due to habitat loss and the illegal pet trade. There are only about 30 of them left in the wild!

Answer: BALI MYNAH

Step outside the Birds' World building and look for:

These parrot-like birds are quite intelligent and are well known for being destructive toward cars and other objects in their native New Zealand. What are they called? Answer: KEA